SZECHUEN IS NEAR ICHANG; GARRISON IS OUT OF HAND

Foreigners Molested By Troops Of Wu Who Are Repulsed

ATTACK WEAKER

Wu Brings More Troops On Flotilla Of Junks To Repulse Invader

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Hankow, Sept. 12.—According to authentic intelligence from Ichang, the situation there is unchanged. The attack of the Szechuenese is weakening, but the firing on the south bank of the river continues.

The garrison troops have got rather out of hand, and tried to force an entrance to the American mission and B. A. T. Company's compounds, but were driven back by the foreign guard. Two Chinese gunboats have proceeded from Yochow to Ichang.

According to a wireless message from Yochow of to-day's date, a reliable Chinese source reports "the departure of General Wu Pei-fu, with a flotilla, for Shasi." It is presumed here that his destination is Ichang.

WU IS AT SHASI

Ichang, Sept. 13.—On Sunday night there was heavy firing, and the Szechuenese achieved their nearest approach to the town. Last night all was quiet.

General Wu Pei-fu is reported to have arrived at Shasi. The Loong Mow reports having passed some 250 to 300 junks, crowded with soldiers, proceeding to Ichang.

STILL PLAN EXPEDITION

(China Press Correspondence)

Canton, September 4.—General Chen Chiung-ming, the Commander-in-Chief of the Cantonese Army operating in Kwangsi, who was to have returned to Canton this week, may have to remain in Nanning a little longer, as the sudden change of military situation in Hunan and Hupeh may necessitate his leading the army to the Yangtsze by way of Changsha and Hankow.

The Canton expedition against the North, now being prepared, is to be expedited. Dr. Wu Ting-fang, also in charge of the Ministry of Finance of the Military Government, now the Constitutional Government, in a recent statement, said that Wu Pei-fu two years ago received some $400,000 to work for the South against the North and that this militarist now would turn against the South.

Governor Ma Chun-wu, of Kwangsi, is calling the Provincial Assembly of his province into special session. Among the questions to be settled are the disbandment of superfluous troops, the reorganisation of local finance, especially the redemption of the now depreciating paper money and the adoption of a local self-government system suitable to conditions in this part of China.

Some remnants of the army of Lu Yung-ting, the defeated militarist and former Inspector-General of Liang Kwang, are still in Lungchow refusing to be disarmed as at first agreed upon. General Chen Chiung-ming of the Cantonese Army has sent Wei Yung-chang, a former Kwangsi commander, to Lungchow to urge them to come to terms without the Cantonese resorting to force.

LU PUTS UP FIGHT

According to the Chinese press, Warlord Lu Yung-ting is putting up a desperate resistance at Lungchow. He has a force of 30,000 men under him.

ARBUCKLE SAYS COLD BATH WAS THE CAUSE

Movie Actor Tells Police His Version Of Death Of Miss Rappe

(Reuter's Service)

San Francisco, September 12.—"Fatty" Arbuckle has given the police his version of how Miss Rappe, who was a beautiful girl, equally well known in New York and the West, met her death. He says she became hysterical after having several drinks at a party and began to tear off her clothes. Other guests tried to calm her by immersing her in a cold bath, but her condition grew worse and she was removed to hospital, where she died.

On the other hand the police and other statements differ widely. A doctor's autopsy shows that death was due to internal injury, causing peritonitis. There were also external bruises. The exhibition of Arbuckle films has been adversely affected by the affair.

ART GALLERY IS STORMED IN RIOT; 100 ARE INJURED

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 12.—There was a recrudescence of unemployed disturbances at Liverpool today. The police charged the crowd with batons and a hundred were arrested, many of whom were taken to the prison hospital.

London, September 13.—Yesterday's disturbances at Liverpool centered round the Walker Art Gallery, which a crowd numbering some thousand suddenly attempted to rush. The police guarding the Gallery were surprised and overwhelmed. There was a sturdy conflict on the steps leading to the building, in the course of which a couple of hundred demonstrators won admission.

Meanwhile police reinforcements were hurried along and these drove back the main portion of the crowd and locked the gallery doors, thereby trapping the invaders, who endeavored to escape. A melee ensued, in which the police freely used their batons. When they had secured the upper hand the doors were reopened. A hundred of the invaders were injured and a hundred arrested. Several peaceful visitors fainted.

HONORS KOO WON REALLY CHINA'S FOR PEACE WORK

President Of League Says His Country Merits The Distinction

SPIRIT OF PEOPLE

2 Great Questions Held All Important For The World's Tranquility

(Reuter's Service)

Geneva, Sept. 12.—Dr. Wellington Koo, interviewed by Reuter, said the honors which had come to him from the League of Nations, as President of the Council and acting Chairman at the opening of the Second Assembly, were really honors bestowed on China. He was glad these honors had come to China, because China had been playing a very great part in the League ever since she entered it.

He recalled the important part taken by China's delegate in the deliberations of the first Assembly, and pointed out that China was at present represented on the Council of the League and also on the committees dealing with military, naval and aerial affairs, the opium traffic, amendments to the Convenant, and transit and communications.

China had also taken part in several international conferences under the auspices of the League. China's representative had acted as reporter to the Council of the League in regard to the administration of the Saar region, the organisation of the Secretariat and finance of the League and the opium problem, while he, Dr. Koo, was a member of the committee on Upper Silesia.

China's active participation in the work of the League became her, not only as a great country, but because the spirit of the League was essentially the spirit of the Chinese people, who were very great lovers of peace.

Chinese civilisation had been built up on the contral idea of upholding the supremacy of right and reason over force and might. He was glad to note the increasing interest of the Chinese press in the League, because the continued success of the League depended primarily on the support of public opinion in all countries.

Dr. Koo said there were at least two questions before the present Assembly which greatly interested the Chinese, viz. disarmament and the International Court of Justice.

China naturally wished a rapid reduction of armaments, which would promote peace, and also the speedy establishment of the permanent tribunal of international justice, inasmuch as such a court would go a long way towards preventing wars.

Dr. Koo hoped soon to report the completion of China's ratification of this court.

He mentioned among the matters specially interesting to China

World's Richest Man Is Modest And Unassuming; Does Not Look The Part

Mr. John D. Rockefeller Jr. Gives Impression Of Wanting To Be "Just Folks"—Asks Scribe If Mammoth Fountain Pen Is Walking Stick

BY WES WILLIAMS

Peking, September 7.—Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., arrived in Peking last night. He and his party came from Japan via Korea. Their original plan was to pass through Shanghai but a cable from Peking informed them of the suspension of traffic on the Tientsin-Pukow line. After the dedication of Peking Union Medical College Mr. Rockefeller hopes to leave China via Shanghai.

The chief object of his visit to China is to participate in the formal opening of the medical institution established by the China Medical Board of the Rockefeller Foundation. Mr. Rockefeller looks upon this as one of the most important enterprises which the Rockefeller Foundation has undertaken and for this reason he comes in person to see the plant which has been in process of building for several years to meet the Chinese and foreign members of the staff and to be present at a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the China Medical Board at which policies for the future will be determined. There will be opportunities for him to meet prominent Chinese while in Peking. President Hsu Shih-chang is tendering a reception to Mr. Rockefeller and the other distinguished visitors from abroad who are coming from America, Great Britain, France and other countries to attend the dedicatory exercises.

NO CAUSE FOR BUCK FEVER

Nearly every newspaper reader has his own idea of what prominent persons with whose names he is familiar must be like. Seeing the costly armored automobile on display in Shanghai gave many people an idea of what the possessor, Chang Tso-lin, must be like. Not many would care to meet him. And yet it is said that he is not at all the fire-eater his aggressive political and military activities would seem to indicate.

It would be interesting if it were possible to gather together and classify the pictures people in different parts of the world have of Mr. John D. Rockefeller, the 82 year old father, and his son. Were they to go to Patagonia and give visible evidence of their ability to buy more pigs and women than the other islanders, they would be bowed down to and made the ruling chiefs after a great pow-wow. The people would stuff themselves with roast pig and yams for three days, sleep for a week and have indigestion for a month. But all the brains in Patagonia added together could not begin to conceive of the wealth and influence possible in our modern industrial world. We shall

PEKING SENDING AGENTS TO GREET GENERAL WOOD

Arrangements Are Being Made To Give Welcome To Philippine Mission

Active preparations are being made by the American Chamber of Commerce and the American Association to entertain Gen. Leonard Wood and Mr. Cameron Forbes and the party accompanying them through the brief stay they will make in Shanghai after their arrival next Saturday on the Empress of Asia from Manila.

Attention has been called to an error in the invitations the two American bodies have issued for the dinner to be given in honor of the distinguished visitors at the Carlton Cafe on Saturday evening. In the invitations the date of the month is given correctly, but the day is erroneously given as Friday instead of Saturday.

Three representatives of the Peking Government will leave the Capital for Shanghai today to welcome General Wood and escort him to Peking. The emissaries will be Wang Ling-kuo of the Ministry of Foreign

ADML. STRAUSS TELLS PLANS FOR YANGTSZE FLEET

Rear Admiral To Be In Charge Of America's Augmented River Flotilla

(Staff Wire To The China Press)

Peking, Sept. 13 (4:30 p.m.).—Speaking at a tiffin gathering at the American Association here Admiral Strauss said that the War Department has realised the importance of providing adequate American police patrol on the Yangtsze, and that a rear-admiral has been commissioned to arrive in China in two months' time to assume the command of the Yangtsze Squadron under Admiral Strauss.

Yangtsze gunboats are provided for in the first section of the navy appropriation bill now before Congress.

The policy of this patrol service, Admiral Strauss points out, is to assure American nationals the due protection of their lives and property but at the same time the utmost care will be taken to avoid arousing in any way the resentment of the Chinese through interference with their affairs.

The speaker also called attention to the fact that while the present squadron is capable of protecting the American properties at the river ports, it is insufficient to lend escort or provide crews for the protection of the river boats.

In the opinion of Admiral Strauss the battleship will always occupy a unique place in modern warfare and the value of the airplane has been over-estimated. The Admiral leaves for Shanghai on Wednesday.

Mr. Arthur Watson's Body Found In The Whangpoo

The body of Arthur Watson, translator in the Municipal Council Health Department who had been missing since last Saturday, was washed ashore near the Liping Road Jetty, beyond the Point flour mill yesterday. The man had been dead for two or three days.

Friends of Mr. Watson believe that he slipped off a rock while taking photographs somewhere in the neighborhood and the finding of his body fully clothed but shoeless substantiates this theory.

A keen photographer and owner of one of the finest collections of China photographs, it is thought that Mr. Watson lost his life either on Saturday or Sunday while getting pictures. Each week-end, Mr. Watson was in the habit of going to some unfrequented locality near Shanghai for the purpose of taking photographs.

Deceased was last seen at noon on Saturday by associates in the Health Department office where he was employed.

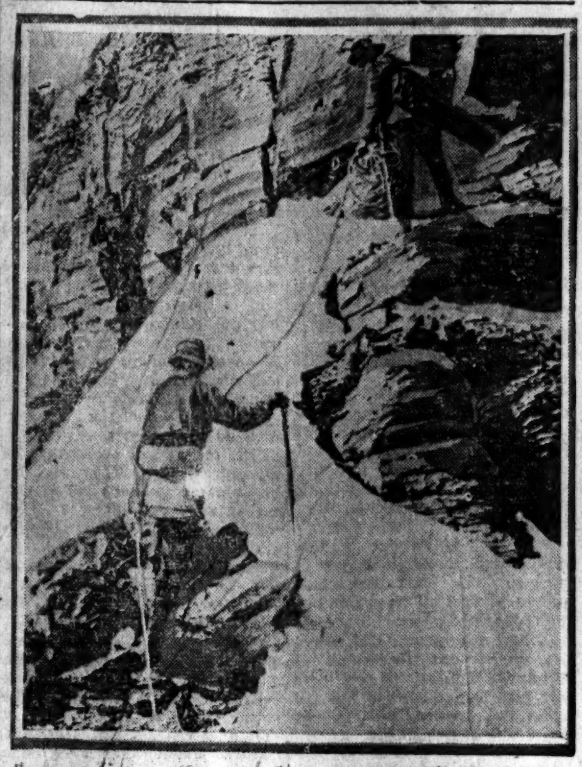
A resident of Shanghai for 19 years, Mr. Watson came here as an enlisted man in the British Navy, joining the Municipal Police when he was paid off and for two years serving as constable at Louza and Central Stations. He then joined the Health Department and has been continually employed there since. He was a native of Sheffield, Yorkshire, about 40 years of age and was unmarried. He resided at 53 Carter Road.

Mr. Watson returned from leave last November after a nine months' holiday in England. He sailed from Shanghai on the Atsuta Maru, April 2, 1920. While in England he passed the sanitary inspector examination. Deceased was a man of excellent habits, held a good position with the Health Department and was in comfortable financial circumstances.

The body was found yesterday morning about 11 o'clock by Chinese who notified the River Police. After it was taken to the mortuary the British and American Consulates and all police stations were asked to identify the body. Fellow employes in the Health Department gave evidence of identification late in the afternoon.

An inquest will be held this morning by British authorities at the Mortuary where the body will again be identified and the coroner's jury will then adjourn to the British Court where a verdict will be returned after hearing further evidence.

Where Husband Lost His Life In Effort To Save Her



MRS. W. E. Stone, wife of Dr. Stone, of Purdue University, is shown in this photograph climbing Mount Assineboine, the loftiest of the Canadian Rockies. It was here when Dr. Stone was going to the aid of his wife, that he fell down a chasm in the solitary fastness of Mount Eanon. His body has not yet been recovered. Heroic guides carried Mrs. Stone on a stretcher, picking a treacherous path to Marble Creek. For eight days she lay helpless in a deep crevasse beside the body of her husband.

Even Women Of China Clamor For New Styles

By Elsie McCormick

THERE seems to be a general impression to the effect that styles in the Far East are changed about as often as the stone petticoats worn by ladies on the outside of Egyptian tombs. The most fixed styles in the world are the kind tattooed on the skin and thereafter unavailable for alteration except by removal of the entire epidermis, which is likely to give one a severe cold.

The next most fixed styles, according to the prevalent foreign opinion, are the modes of China, Japan and Korea. It is a popular belief that any Chinese wishing to Burbank a few roots on to the family tree in the shape of ancestral portraits, is spared all the trips to costumers and the delving into musty volumes that afflict the nouveau riche at home. He need only shake out his best silk gown, put it on, and pose for a dozen generations by merely changing his position.

As a matter of fact, he couldn't do any such thing.

CERTAINLY THEY CHANGE

Styles change in China just as they do on Fifth Avenue, for though the difference in speed may be that between a taxi-cab and a glacier, it must be admitted that even the picture of a glacier taken a hundred years ago would not present the same profile as if photographed today.

A book on China published twenty years ago remarked on the immutability of Chinese styles, and then proceeded to describe women's jackets, which, it said, are worn to the knee. Anyone seeking to find knee-length jackets among the well-groomed little flappers of Shanghai today would have to be equipped with a search warrant, an arclight, a magnet, and a divining-rod, and he couldn't be sure of much success even then.

Gone, too, are the wide strips of embroidery that marked the edges of the jacket, and the loose, long sleeves which appear in photographs of even a few years ago.

The fashionable Chinese girl wears a short jacket with very narrow embroidery, or foreign style braid, and instead of falling in straight lines, it is cut in at the waist after the fashion of a swagger second lieutenant. The flowing sleeves of a decade or so ago have shrunk like a bargain sweater worn forgetfully under a shower bath.

This season's modes show wide hems at the bottom of the skirt, long fasteners placed diagonally on the jacket, sleeves that are fuller and shorter than last year's, blouses with corners cut square instead of round, and silk figured preferably with butterflies or conventionalised characters. Instead of the chin-obscuring collars of a few years ago, the up-to-date Chinese girl of Shanghai wears a neckband not more than half an inch high—a style which would have been considered shamelessly decolette by past generations.

Trousers, too, have suddenly become very much afraid of the street and are smuggling kneeward to keep out of danger.

HIGHER AND HIGHER

Some months ago the Ministry of Interior issued an edict threatening penalties of fine and imprisonment against any Chinese women wearing over-abbreviated trousers or under-emphasised sleeves.

It accompanied the proclamation with a few fatherly remarks on women's dress, stating that the effect was "very embarrassing and bewitching," and that the Chinese belles picked up these improper ideas from watching the foreigners.

Its unguarded admission about the bewitching qualities of the mode was all the confirmation that the young ladies needed. Trousers underwent further aviation, and the law fell into abeyance because of the expense of building a sufficiently commodious jail. As for the embarrassing part of it, we have failed to learn just who is embarrassed—certainly not those who wear the clothes. Our only guess is the fathers who pay for them.

The same book which refers to the unchangeableness of Chinese dress describes as the popular hair arrangement a high knot and a tube in which flowers can be inserted. If the author should visit Shanghai today, he would probably reach wildly for his note-book and begin to inscribe numerous jottings about puffs, frizzes, and even an occasional bob. The latest fashion among the singsong girls is said to be the spider bang, a very delicate fringe of about 40 hairs carefully spread out to cover the widest possible area.

JAPANESE CONSERVATIVE

A glimpse of paintings made in the Ming dynasty shows that the Chinese costume has undergone a considerable revolution. Trousers are not in evidence. The women wear long, flowing kimono-like robes, with their hair piled high according to the present-day Japanese fashion. In fact, the Chinese state that the Japanese borrowed the costume and have worn it without change through the intervening centuries. It is the Japanese, they say, who are conservative and lacking in style, for the Chin-

CHINA'S CASE COVERED IN AGENDA FOR CONFERENCE

Tentative Program Lifts Fears From Peking As To Claims

HOLD OFF JAPAN

No Direct Negotiations Until Will Of People Is Ascertained

(Staff Wire To The China Press)

Peking, Sept. 13 (4:30 p.m.)—The Chinese Government has received a tentative agenda of the Washington Conference and was gratified to find that it included a number of questions which, it was feared, might be ruled out.

Dr. Philip Tyau and Dr. Fergusson, who have been appointed advance agents of the Chinese Delegation, have left for Shanghai to take their passage on the Empress of Asia.

Dr. W. W. Yen, the chief delegate and other members of the delegation have expressed the view that they felt confident that Dr. C. C. Wu, as representative of the Southern Government will join the delegation.

The Peking Government has so far assumed a non-committal attitude towards the offer of the Japanese Government to open direct negotiations for the return of Tsingtao. Dr. W. W. Yen, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, insists on taking no action until the will of the people on the subject has been ascertained.

The last few days, stream of telegrams has poured to the cabinet protesting against the opening of direct negotiations with Japan, including various associated bodies of the Shantung Province. The text of the Japanese memorandum is to be published shortly unless unforeseen circumstances intervene.

F. E. R. WANTS PLACE

(Delta News Agency)

Peking, Sept. 10.—Mr. A. F. Agareff, Acting Chairman of the Mission of the Far Eastern Republic to China, handed to the American Legation in Peking, September 8, the following note from Mr. I. L. Yourin, Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Far Eastern Republic, to Mr. Charles E. Hughes, Secretary of State of the United States of America:

Mr. Secretary: I have the honor to inform you that the people and the Government of the Far Eastern Republic are aware that on the initiative of the Honorable the President of the United States a conference of the Powers will assemble on the 11th of November in the city of Washington to discuss matters appertaining to the limitation of armaments and with regard to the Far East and the Pacific.

I have already had the honor to inform you, Mr. Secretary, that an independent Government has been established in the Russian Far East under the name of the Far Eastern Republic. The Far Eastern Republic has been established on a true democratic basis, and authority in it is exercised by a Government elected by the Constituent Assembly of the whole of the Russian Far East. The Government and the people of the Far Eastern Republic desire sincerely and unceasingly to live at peace and in friendly relations with other peoples and are anxious to enter into close commercial and diplomatic relations with other countries.

HAS GREAT WEALTH

The Government of the Far Eastern Republic is ready to associate itself in the commercial and business life of other nations. The Far Eastern Republic having established as an inviolable principle the recognition of private property and freedom of trade, is ready to extend its full assistance to all foreign interests participating in the exploitation of the immense wealth of its territory.

I conceive that it is unnecessary to point out that the geographical position of the Far Eastern Republic and its extensive coast line on the Pacific fully entitle the Republic to participation in the settlement of all questions relative to the Far East and to the Pacific. The necessity for the exertion of every effort to maintain peace on the Pacific, which is the only region in which great conflicts are likely to arise in the future, and the earnest desire for peace and friendship entertained by the Russian people of the Far East, whose territory has only recently been the scene of the military activity of the Powers, are further arguments for the necessity of the participation of the Far Eastern Republic in the Conference.

This participation is essential to that peaceful issue that the Conference is contriving. There can be no doubt that the voice of the Government, on behalf of which I address you, Mr. Secretary, is sufficiently authoritative and expresses the will of the entire people of the Russian Far East having been elected by the Constituent Assembly and having, in the short period of its existence, become strong and capable of defending the interests of the people.

PEOPLE HAVE STAKE

The people of the Russian Far East consider it indisputable that they have an interest in the settlement of the different questions that will be discussed at the Conference not less than that of any other Power. The Far Eastern Republic cannot allow that most important matters, touching upon many points of general interest, should be decided without its participation; and its Government cannot either assume any responsibility for any of the decisions or undertake their practical application.

The Government of the Far Eastern Republic will not accept decisions on matters touching upon the interests of the Far Eastern Republic and will in every possible way oppose the open violation of the sovereign rights of the nation.

We are firmly convinced that the American Government in calling the Conference has been guided by a sincere intention to effect a peaceful solution of the several problems at issue, and believe that the American Government understands that a peaceful settlement of such a question as that of Siberia is possible only through the participation and consent of the Siberian population, whose voice must be heard and whose interests must be represented at the Conference by a delegation from the Far Eastern Republic.

I venture to hope, Mr. Secretary, that no considerations of a formal nature will prevent you from acting in accordance with the principles of justice and good will, as well as in the true interest of the Conference which has undertaken a task, the settlement of which depends upon the agreement reached between all the parties interested.

Smiles from the Mixed Court

A barefoot blacksmith by name of Koo Kyung-foh started something in his little shop in Urga road Monday night at 8 p.m., when a red hot rivet dropped from the tongs of one of his four associates and nestled warmly between two toes of his near side naked foot. It was finished in the Mixed Court yesterday.

Koo accused his nearest forgemate with having wilfully and maliciously dropped the sparkling rivet on his unprotected member. He got not only a denial but a chorus of unsympathetic laughter. It was one on Koo, they all agreed.

When the police arrived Koo was doing a fairly good job of wrecking the blacksmith shop and each and all its employes. The Court fined them each $1 for disturbing the peace, and when Koo walked out to resume his task at the bellows, his feet were only half unclothed, for the jail doctor had dressed the left half in a rivet-proof bandage.

IN FROM THE STICKS

Wong En-sung is a country boy. He has never had opportunity to get posted on the customs and regulations for handling city chickens. Which ignorance brought him to court yesterday morning, and almost sent him to prison.

Wong was charged with cruelty to chickens. According to the brief summary of his misdemeanor he had violated city ways by carrying a full dozen young hens on a bamboo pole, suspended by their limbs, causing the said dozen chicks unnecessary pain, suffering and embarrassment.

He was fined $2.

HIDDEN IN HIS BELT?

A brass-smith named Yen Ah-ching, who bought little and stole much from a metal shop at 171 North Soochow road over a period of a dozen different visits, was sentenced in the Mixed Court yesterday to one month in jail on a proven and admitted charge of larceny.

The complaint made by the iron merchant was that Yen visited his shop, purchased small quantities of steel and brass, but always smuggled away about four times as much hardware 'neath the mysterious folds of his gown.

Yen had stolen as much as 12 dozen steel rods since September 1, the iron-monger declared. He was arrested Monday while leaving the shop after a small purchase, with two dozen steel rods cleverly secreted about his person.

JUST HALF OF TEN

When Ng Heu-sung, unemployed, rounded a corner from Markham Road into a Chinese alleyway last Friday afternoon, he was confronted not only with a battle staged by one lady, Zee Tsang-sz and an unidentified woman from Kompo, but also a shining opportunity for a jobless adventurer, such as himself.

The story, as told in the Mixed Court yesterday, is good, whichever way it is told. Ng testified that Madame Zee bribed him with a crisp five-dollar note to buy the belligerent Kompo person off from her offensive. Mrs. Zee declared under oath that Ng had posed as an arm of the Settlement Law, and had begun the negotiations for the five-spot with no prompting from her.

The charge was extortion. The prosecution presented that Ng had offered to smother the disturbance of the alleyway peace with a present of the five smackers to the Kompo woman. It was said that he had convinced Mrs. Zee that the fault was hers, and naturally she must pay. He got the money.

All might have gone well except that the Amazon from Kompo met Madame Zee Monday morning and renewed the struggle. The battle surpassed the ferocity of the first engagement, for Mrs. Zee was madder than ever. She offered interjectory remarks between strokes on the character of an enemy who broke an armistice purchased through the police for five dollars paid in advance.

When the history of that $5 note became mutually understood to both women, through a comparing of notes, it was learned that the channel of payment had been diverted somewhere between the payee and the giver: it was suspected that the unknown "policeman" has appropriated the bribe.

Explaining the situation to their Honors yesterday Ng said that he had meant well. He would have paid the five spot to the Kompo woman gladly, for she was poor and was nursing a sick child. He searched the alleyways long and carefully, he said, but the poor woman had disappeared: he could not pay her: he was forced to keep the money.

Ng was sentenced to six months in prison and will be expelled upon his release. Mrs. Zee is again the possessor of the five simoleons and she and the Kompo woman are developing into the closest of friends.

Even Women Of China Clamoring For New Styles

ese dress has altered beyond recognition in the same period.

Whatever changes are ahead, however, every foreigner dwelling in the Far East hopes that the women of the Orient will not adopt the Western costume unless it is considerably modified.

We remember seeing a number of dainty Japanese picture-brides at Angel Island in California, awaiting the arrival of husbands whom they had never met. The husbands came; shy, bobbing bows were exchanged, and the gentlemen then drew tape-measures from their pockets and began to make a few estimates. They returned with packages a few hours later, and were afterwards accompanied to the tug by awkward little women with ostrich-plumed hats balanced precariously on large black pompadours, high heels that gave them a Tower of Pisa angle, and ready-made suits that underscored the non-existence of a waist. Chinese women, as a rule, wear foreign clothes with much better style and grace, but they also appear at their best when following their own fashions.

We don't know what the next evolution of Chinese style will be, but the absence of high collars on some of the jackets might be regarded as a clue.

HUNGARY'S STAND ON BURGENLAND IS VEXING ALLIES

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 12.—Foreign Office telegrams show that the attitude of the Hungarian Government as regards the Burgenland dispute continues to be very unsatisfactory. Hungary has replied to the Allies' Note, suggesting that the work of restoring order shall be entrusted to Hungarian troops. This is regarded as irrelevant, and an abandonment of the previous disavowal of responsibility for the action of the irregular bands which invaded Burgenland. The Austrians have today withdrawn from their zone.

Meanwhile a state of alarm prevails among the frontier populations, and their cattle are being driven into the interior. It is felt in London that it is necessary to employ vigorous coercive measures to compel the fulfilment of Hungary's obligations.

Japanese Is Held On Murder Charge

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 12.—A Japanese, named Yusuke Takeuchi, living at Cardiff, has been arrested in connection with the shooting of Jingo Honda, a Japanese fireman during an affray on board the steamer Uralsan Maru at Bar Docks. Honda has been taken to hospital in a dying condition.

World's Richest Man Is Modest And Unassuming

have to abandon pictures originating in Patagonia.

The people of China have never been called upon to stretch their imaginations to the extent that it will be necessary for them to do if they wish to estimate Mr. Rockefeller's wealth. They have never before had a visit from the richest man in the world. It may be many of them will wonder why he has not purchased himself some high official position, built himself numerous palaces, furbished up a few temples, built roads throughout the country, wherever he happened to own property, engaged a special middleman to look after the concubine supply, started a private school for his children, engaged a few tens of thousands of convertable coolies-soldiers-bandits to bear arms for him so long as his money lasted, and done the hundred and one other things a respectable rich man is expected to do to serve his day and generation properly. If he is at all interested in the most precious thing in the Orient, I hope Mr. Rockefeller will keep it a profound secret that he has not done any of these things. No other confession will lose him so much face. To admit the facts will subject him to suspicion.

It is a trait of human nature to make it hard for the man who finds himself the greatest this, that or the other in the world. As soon as he mounts into the rarified heights where company is scarce, he becomes a marked figure because we can see him better, or think we ought to. Famous singers, actors, generals, financiers, philantropists, authors, builders and kings all suffer from their high position. Some enjoy the pain immensely and keep specialists employed to make sure that the pain continues. They crave being written about, gawked at, pursued by admiring or at least curious crowds. They spend much of their time wearing spangled geegaws to reflect a bit of the luster of the solar system of which they think themselves an integral part. We common folks have become accustomed to that sort of thing.

Because of his failure to measure up to this kind of popular conception, Mr. Rockefeller Jr. is a distinct disappointment. Any enterprising publicity man would call him a complete failure. The trouble with him seems to be that he wants to be like other folks. He is not running true to type. A traitor to the cause is what the others interested in maintaining a proper degree of popular inflation would probably call him. The people are coming fast enough to discounting and disrupting this sort of thing. Sunburning their tonsils staring at the high and mighty is a sensation they no longer hanker after as they used to in the good old days when kings were gods.

When Mr. Rockefeller visited the Peking Union Medical College today he came wearing neither patent leather shoes nor two-gallon hat. In fact, he looked mighty comfortable in dark gray suit and soft straw hat. He is short of stature, lean, his hair is dark but turning gray, and watching him gives one the impression that he is at ease mentally and not constantly on nervous tension as Mr. Harriman, for instance, used to be.

The director of the medical school had prepared a special guest book which was waiting for the arrival of Mr. Rockefeller and the other members of the Board of Trustees. When it was presented to him for his signature, Mr. Rockefeller remembered that he had no pen with him. I offered him the use of mine which happens to be the biggest size of its kind made.

"Can this also be used as a walking stick"? he asked as he tried to place it between his first and second fingers. "I usually write this way and your pen is hard to straddle." It took him double time with this uncomfortable combination to negotiate his signature.

PREPARING FOR THE PARTY

The one objective towards which the construction staff has been working for months is to have their work done by the date set for the dedication. They have practically accomplished this. There are still a number of odds and ends to be attended to but the buildings are taking on a finished appearance. The school and hospital laboratories are in operation, the hospital is filling up and in some departments there are already more patients applying for admission than can be accommodated. This sign of activity all over the place gives one the impression that the institution has been in operation for some considerable time. But everything is new. Laboratory equipment, furnishings, buildings inside and out, hospital beds and linen need only a casual inspection to show this. The open ground between buildings and the enclosing wall is being leveled, seeded and watered. A large extra force of workmen is now employed to sweep, scrub and scour to get everything cleaned up for the big week. The telephone exchange is one of the busiest places and one cannot walk through the corridors of any of the buildings without seeing signals being flashed by an automatic electrical device calling members of the staff to the telephone. "Excuse me," said one of the doctors as we were going from one building to another "there goes my number." And with that he stepped into the nearest room with a telephone and saved himself and a chit-boy time and trouble. From the kitchen in the basement to the operating rooms on the top floor of the hospital building the latest mechanical devices have been installed to make the service efficient and safe. The buildings are all screened with rust-proof wire and even the most menial workman on the regular staff looks uncomfortably clean and well dressed.

The Dedicatory services and the installation of Dr. Henry Spencer Houghton as Dean of the Peking Union Medical College will be conducted in the beautiful auditorium building of the institution at San Tiao Hutung on the nineteenth of this month. Arrangements have been made to take moving pictures of the formal procession and these will be shown both in China and abroad.

"Western Proverbs and Maxims"

The Shun Pao last year added to its features the section known as Ch'ang Shih (Common Sense) which has become very popular, and among the factors contributing to its popularity not the least is the daily feature of translations of Western proverbs and maxims done by Mr. J. T. Hsieh, a member of the editorial staff. These translations together with the original text in English have been published by the Shun Pao in a book form entitled "A Collection of Western Proverbs and Maxims" consisting of 50 sections of 10 proverbs each. As a translation manual for classroom use or as a guide to simple translation from English to Chinese, the book meets a real educational need. There are six prefaces in Chinese written by the heads of the Editorial and Business Departments of the Shun Pao, besides a foreword in English by Francis Zia who advocates the propagation of moral literature as a means of national salvation in these words: "Railways, steamers, battleships, aeroplanes, submarines and many other inventions of modern science can all wait. But the uplift of morals by means of moral talks and books cannot wait."

JAPAN STRIVES TO END OPIUM SALE IN SHANTUNG PORT

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Sept. 10.—The International Anti-Opium Association has issued the following:

Towards the close of 1920 the Japanese Government announced its determination to close the opium monopoly at Tsingtao. Reliable information has now been received to the effect that the official Japanese sign-board was removed early this year from the bureau where the opium was formerly obtained, and no ships of the Japanese Navy have conveyed opium to Tsingtao since January this year.

The two shops—Tien-tsi and Pao-yuan—from which Indian opium could be purchased have not supplied any since July this year, and are no longer engaged in the business.

Opium from Manchuria, Kiaochao, Chimai and other districts is still being smuggled into Tsingtao, and recent reports say that the price of opium is very low.

"A whiff of the pipe" can be obtained for a few coppers. From this it appears that the trade in Indian opium has ceased at Tsingtao but that smuggling of local opium is carried on without much hindrance.

It is hoped, therefore, that the Japanese Government will direct the attention of the Japanese authorities in Tsingtao to the suppression of this smuggling.

Assassination Of Foreign Officers Planned By Turks

(Reuter's Service)

Constantinople, Sept. 12.—It is reported that the British intelligence authorities here have discovered a plot, organised and subsidised from Angora, chiefly among Turkish officers, with a view to stirring up a revolution in Constantinople, seizing surrendered war material, spreading dissatisfaction among the loyal Indian troops and assassinating the leading officers of the Allied forces.

Seventeen desperadoes are said to have been brought to Constantinople specially to commit murders. General Harington has submitted a list of compromised persons to the Turkish authorities, and demanded they be arrested and handed over within a week for trial by an Allied court.

RECOVER BODY OF HOLDUP MAN FROM WHANGPOO

The body of one of two robbers who jumped into the Whangpoo River near the Japanese Consulate when chased by police Sunday night is believed to have been recovered yesterday near the Kiu-kiang Road Jetty. Identification was not completed as the body was taken to the Chinese City where Settlement authorities will consult with the Chinese police today.

It was the body of an aged Chinese which was found yesterday and as far as could be ascertained the description tallies with one of the men who leaped into the water after the police chase. The two men had held up Chinese on Seward Road and fled when an alarm was given, Chinese and Japanese police setting after them. They ran down Whangpoo Road, then cut into Woochang Road to the river front where they jumped into a sampan and when about to be taken they leaped into the water and were drowned.

CHINESE KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE

A Chinese struck by motor car numbered 234 at the corner of Szechuen and Canton Roads yesterday morning at 9:15 o'clock died at the Shantung Road Hospital late yesterday afternoon. The car was traveling along Szechuen Road from North to South when the Chinese started to cross the street at the junction of Canton Road. He hesitated, was struck and sustained a concussion of the brain. The automobile is owned by Sung Ching-bing, a resident of the French Concession.

SWIMMING ASS'N SELECTS INTERPORT TEAM; HOLDING MINIATURE GALA TUESDAY

Team To Leave For Hongkong October 22; It Looks Like Winner

The committee of the Shanghai Amateur Swimming Association met last evening to select the interport team that is to represent Shanghai against Hongkong at the close of this month, there being present Messrs. J. H. McGregor and C. J. Encarnacao (Shanghai International Swimming Club delegates), A. K. Brown and T. R. Macdonald (Rowing Club), W. Jones and E. A. Eva (Police Swimming Club). Mr. McGregor was in the chair.

On a review of the list of those who have signified their willingness to travel if selected it was found that several of Shanghai's best water polo players were not available, such as Messrs. B. Wallin, E. F. Mears, R. A. Berthet and T. W. R. Wilson, but from the rest the following team was chosen: R. W. MacCabe (Captain), E. A. Brodie, L. Goldman, A. E. Goldman, J. B. Brown (Rowing Club) and C. J. Encarnacao, E. A. S. Siemssen, J. R. Tordy and F. A. Remedios (International Swimming Club).

With the double object of financing the balance of the passage money of the team and of allowing the team chosen some concerted practice, it was decided to hold a miniature gala on next Tuesday night, Sept. 20, at the Municipal Bath (subject to the permission of the authorities) at which an admission fee of half a dollar will be charged and the team selected will compete against the Rest of Shanghai in various interport events, notably water polo and relay race, diving, etc.

In all probability the team will leave on the 22nd inst., so this will give them an opportunity of practising together right before they start on their journey South.

It is another indication of the growing commercialism of the times in our former Model Settlement that the best rate obtainable for the party of nine swimmers is exactly 2¼ times higher than when the first team from Shanghai went down to the Crown Colony in 1909, and in those good old days a "laudator temporis acti" recalls that wines and liquors were supplied free of charge at table on board! The genial skipper of the Hangsang (which brought the swimmers down and back on that occasion, the first of the series of interport galas), Capt. Spencer C. H. Wilde, has now become a benedict, and settled down in the Old Country.

ITO TAKES .303 RIFLE TITLE BY A RECORD SCORE

Winner Retains Honors Won Last Year Under Bad Range Conditions

The Shanghai "British .303 Rifle" Championship, first stage, 200-500-600 yards, seven scoring shots was shot off on Saturday, 10th inst. at 2 p.m. in a downpour of rain which swamped the whole of the mound. In spite of the unfavorable conditions only two competitors retired. O. L. Ilbert won the special prize in this stage with a fine score of 95 pts. He was closely followed by Ito with 94 and Barrett with 93.

Second stage, 300-600 yards, ten scoring shots. The second stage was shot off on Sunday 11th inst. at 3 p.m. under better weather conditions, except the wind was very tricky with J. R. Main and Capt. Barrett with 91 each. Adding this score with those of the first stage Ito took the lead with 186 pts. (he had the same score last year) and won the special prize in this stage. Capt. Barrett was 2nd with 184 and J. R. Main 3rd with 179. Noisshike who was 4th in 1st stage went to pieces.

Third stage, 900-1000 yards, fifteen scoring shots. The third stage was shot off on Monday at 7 a.m. under the most unfavorable conditions, bad light and tricky wind. After firing at 900 yards Ito again increased his lead with 65 pts. followed by Capt. Barrett with 62 and F. E. Hodges with 59. Before commencing the 1000 yards, Ito's aggregate was 251, Capt. Barrett 246 and J. R. Main 233. Capt. Barrett started well at 1000 yards and also Ito. After firing the 8th shot Capt. Barrett immediately pushed himself into the lead, with 2 outers consecutively, Ito forged ahead with 2 consecutive "Bulls" took a good lead of 7 points and won the honor quite comfortable.

ITO SETS NEW RECORD

With a score of 313, Mr. R. I. Ito carried off the championship, repeating his success of last year, (same score). The score of 313 by Mr. Ito constitutes a new record in this competition and is a remarkable achivement under conditions which permit of no sighters nor practice shots.

Capt. Barrett is to be congratulated for his fine performance as it is interesting as he has not shot in competitions here since 1914, when he was bracketed with Messrs. A. M. Collaco, and A. C. Crighton at the top of the list in the interport shoot. With only a couple of practice shoots this year he has regained his old form.

At the conclusion of the shoot Mr. O. L. Ilbert (Vice-Chairman of the Association) presented the prizes to the successful competitors and a hearty vote of thanks was proposed to the "Well-Wisher" for having so kindly presented the valuable Gold Cross as the first prize in the above competition.

Capt. Barrett proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. A. M. Collaco their energetic Secretary for his indefatigable works during the match, which was carried with acclamations.

Two-Day Meeting Schedules Usual Card To Commence At 2 p.m.

The fall racing season will open Friday with a two day meet, the 80th meeting of the International Recreation Club, at Kiangwan. The first saddling bell will be rung at 2 p.m., Friday and Saturday.

The usual accommodations will be provided for transportation to and from Kiangwan for the meeting. Special trains will leave Shanghai at 1:15 p.m. and at 1:30 p.m. each day, while special motor cars will leave the Central Garage at No. 2A Jinkee Road on a 1-minute schedule. Tiffins and refreshments will be served at the track pavilion.

Polo Was Played In China More Than 1,500 Years Ago

Although the international polo matches between the United States and English teams began in 1886, the game of polo was played in China in the eighth century even before Columbus discovered America.

The game was introduced in the United States in 1876 but the sport is centuries old. It originated in Persia, and was played in China and India long before cavalry officers, garrisoned in India, brought the sport to England and made it the "sport of kings."

Largely because of the excellent training in horsemanship which polo affords, it has been fostered by government and army officials. At the close of the recent war, Sir Douglas Haig conferred upon the sport a "citation," declaring it to be the most efficient training for army officers yet devised. During and since the war, the game has been encouraged among American army officers.

INVENTED IN PERSIA

According to tradition, polo had its origin in the court of a Persian king. It is said to have been invented by a court physician for the purpose of providing physical exercise for his sovereign and members of the retinue. About 600 A. D., shadowy legends have it that the Tartars, who overran Asia at that period, carried the game to China. From Chinese archives, it appears that as early as 951 A. D., there was a school for the training of polo ponies. It was shortly after this period that the wanderings of the Asiatic peoples took the game to India, whence it has come down to England and America.

When James Gordon Bennett brought mallets, jerseys and balls to America in 1876, he and several associates gave the game its first tryout at Dickels' riding academy, then located at 39th street and Fifth avenue, New York. Soon, the players formed the Westchester Polo club, with grounds at Fordham. When the fashionable New York set moved to Newport, R. I. in the summer of 1877, the Westchester Polo club moved there also.

AMERICA LIKES IT

The game immediately gained popularity. The Brighton Polo club was organised at Long Branch, another fashionable summer place. The late H. L. Herbert, until his death a few months ago, the president of the Polo Association of America, was one of the founders of this organisation. Formation of the Buffalo Polo club followed and in 1890, seven clubs, Philadelphia Country club, Westchester, Meadow

REVOLVER CLUB PREPARING FOR INDOOR SHOOTS

Championship Event Set For October; Any One Is Eligible

Entries are being received by the Shanghai Revolver Club for the annual indoor revolver championship competitions which will be shot off in October.

Conditions for the competition will be the same as applied in the Match "A" Indoor Championship of the United States Revolver Association recently closed in America, 50 shots to be fired at 20 yards at a standard American target.

All persons interested in the sport are eligible to entrance. Entries may be filed with Mr. Thomas Freeman, Secretary at the office and range, Avenue Haig and 2 Route de Say Zoong. Record shots may be fired off on any day during October. The highest possible score is 500.

The championship competition in America just finished saw some high scores made by shots representing nearly every state in the Union. The ten highest scores follow:

WEEK-END BASEBALL GAMES SCHEDULED WITH THE 26TH DESTROYER DIVISION NINE

Locals Also Hope To Play Flagship Huron Team In Double-Header

There will be at least two more games of baseball in Shanghai this summer before the grand stands at the Race Track diamond are torn down and the baseball paraphernalia is packed away in its winter layers of moth balls. They will be played on Saturday and Sunday.

The management of the Shanghai Baseball Club yesterday spread the glad news that the 26th Destroyer division is due in port this week from the summer maneuvers. They will be here over the week-end at least. Long enough at any rate to insure the Saturday and Sunday games.

It is also known that the flagship Huron will be laying off the Bund Thursday or Friday, so it is fair to assume that games will be available with that ship's nine also, for the Huron is booked to rest in port for ten days or more. It is possible that double-headers will be staged on both of this week-end days.

Saturday's game is scheduled at present to commence at 3:30 on the theory that only the 26th Division nine will be in port. Sunday's will start at 2:30. Should the Huron come up the river however before Saturday both days play will commence at 2:30 with double-headed bills on tap.

The 26th Division team is a strong aggregation of ball players. They played here in the spring, and they made Shanghai hustle for every point scored against them. The Huron has been playing regularly since leaving port, with interfleet series at Chefoo, and special games at Tientsin with the champion 15th Infantry and at Peking with the Legation Guard. The men all will be in playing moods when they step ashore.

After Sunday's game the baseball grandstands will be torn down and filed away until next spring. There may however be other games even after the stands are wrecked. It depends upon the availability of opposition. The local team will play as long as a team is in port with a challenge.

The Shanghai men will be out this evening and every day until Saturday for a pick-up on training after the two weeks rest forced upon them by the rains.

MUNCIE TO FACE GRAVE CHARGES IN COURT TODAY

Recaptured Jail Breaker To Be Arraigned At Hearing Before Commissioner

Henry Muncie, who was one of the two ex-soliders that escaped from the American jail and who was recaptured Monday afternoon, will be arraigned on a series of criminal charges at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the court of U.S. Commissioner F. J. Schuhl.

Muncie originally was arrested on a charge made by Mu Tuh-lee, a jeweler of 71 Nanking Road. It was alleged that he had fraudulently obtained possession of two platinum watches valued at $1,150 by means of a bogus bank draft. After this charge was placed against him he was accused of having deserted from the 15th Infantry, United States Army at Tientsin.

In addition to these charges when he is arraigned today he will be called upon to answer a charge of having broken prison and another charge of assault to kill will be made against him. The basis of this last named charge is the attack made upon G. J. Engberg, jailer of the American prison when Muncie, with his companion, Amos Norman, made their dash for liberty.

Norman is still at large.

Paris, Sept. 12.—The collieries of Northern France, which were systematically wrecked and flooded by the retreating Germans, are slowly emerging from their ruined state.

Their output, which in 1913 was over 22,000,000 tons, was under 4,000,000 tons in 1920, but this latter figure was already exceeded in the last half of 1921.

The French collieries managed to afford substantial help to British industries during the recent British miners' strike.

Eminent French Surgeon Arriving On Hawkeye State; Going To P.U.M.C. Opening

Dr. Tuffier, Who Attended Clemenceau, Is Professor At University Of Paris; Admiral Line Steamer In At 10 O'Clock This Morning

Bringing 912 sacks of mail and a full list of passengers the Admiral Line Steamer Hawkeye State will dock at the China Merchants Lower Wharf this morning at 10 o'clock, 18 days out of Seattle.

Prominent among the passengers is Dr. T. Tuffier, professor of surgery at the University of Paris, who attended Premier Clemenceau when an assassin's bullet threatened to interrupt the statesman's activities at the Versailles Conference. Dr. Tuffier is one of the most eminent surgeons in France and is going to Peking to attend the dedication of the Peking Union Medical College. He is accompanied by his wife and daughter.

Mr. T. E. Doremus, manager for the Far East of the E. I. Du Pont de Nemours Export Company and Mr. A. A. Murphy of the same company are arriving on the Hawkeye State.

Sixty-seven missionaries are passengers for Shanghai on the steamer. Fifty-two are with the Southern Baptist Mission, eleven for service with the Presbyterian Mission and four for Yale in China at Changsha.

Ensign C. D. Kirt of the U. S. S. Wilmington, who was married to Miss Gofia Simpson of Owensboro, Kentucky, at Yokohama, will be a through passenger to Manila, accompanied by his bride. Ensign Kirt went to Yokohama from Hankow and is proceeding to Cavite for duty.

The steamer is the first of the Shipping Board liners to arrive in the Orient entirely dry, though the Golden State on her first trip was not very wet. Since then all the ships have had well supplied bars. The Hawkeye State has been on a dry run and had no opportunity to load up for her new run between San Francisco and Seattle.

The Hawkeye State brought 1,643 bags of mail for Japan and 2,540 tons of cargo for Yokohama. The Hawkeye was allotted to the Matson Navigation Company for use on their line between San Francisco and Honolulu and chartered by that company to the Admiral Line for a voyage to the Orient to fill in their schedule until others of their five liners are allotted and delivered by the Shipping Board.

Polo Played In China More Than 1,500 Years Ago

Brook, Rockaway, Essex County, Morris County and the County club of Westchester formed the Polo Association. Buffalo did not join until five years later.

Action of the Westchester club in 1886, in offering a trophy for international competition greatly stimulated interest in the game. The handicap lists for 1921 included players of 38 registered clubs of the association, situated from coast to coast, with the Hawaii Polo and Racing Club of Honolulu and the Manila Polo club also active members.

Polo is now played at every army station in which cavalry officers are located and the Army Polo Association at Washington, D. C., has approximately 600 officers. In England, even more than in the United States is the game an established sport for army officers, as is evidenced by the fact that three members of the British team, recently announced, are army officers.

Ruling Made On Motion By British Court In Humphrey's Bankruptcy

Decision Is Given That Assignment That Was Made To Company By Respondent Was Fraudulent And Void

In the Humphreys bankruptcy proceedings being heard in the British Supreme Court a ruling was handed down yesterday by Judge Peter Grain on a motion that was presented on behalf of the Official Receiver contending that an assignment made by Humphreys was fraudulent.

In the ruling the Court declared that the assignment in question was fraudulent and void. The text of the decision is as follows:

His Lordship, in giving judgment, said it did not appear to him to be of any real consequence whether he dealt with this matter under the Bankruptcy Act 1914, or under the statute of Elizabeth C5. Under the statute of Elizabeth it would be necessary for him to find that the bankrupt assigned the whole or substantially the whole of his property to the company and further that the company had knowledge he was deceiving his creditors. Considering that the bankrupt was to all intents and purposes the company it perhaps would not be difficult to give a decision on the last point, but His Lordship might want further evidence as to the bankrupt's knowledge that he was deceiving his creditors knowingly and did in fact transfer the whole of the property to the company. But he thought that the matter could be more conveniently dealt with under the Bankruptcy Act 1914.

BOOKS HOPELESS

Dealing with the facts, his Lordship said the books of the bankrupt's business according to Mr. Barrett were in a hopeless state at the beginning of this year. Mr. Barrett began to work on them in March, but did not then go into the previous bookkeeping. There was a heavy loss on one part of the business, not compensated for by a profit on another branch. It was a continuing loss and, as Mr. Barrett said, the business could not possibly have gone on as it was. The accounts were not completed when the company was formed, nor even when the assignment was given in June. The accounts were not complete till July. It was then found that the business was insolvent to the extent of about half a million. Mr. Barrett said, "It must have been insolvent in May."

As Mr. Holborow had said they must take all the circumstances of the case into consideration. What was the attitude of the bankrupt throughout? When Mr. Barrett took over the books he discovered after a time that there was a liability to the Bank of China, which turned out to be Tls. 46,000, not entered. Mr. Barrett spoke to Mr. Humphreys about it and Humphreys said he had "feared to tell" and even then Mr. Humphreys made an entry and made that incorrectly. He also gave the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank a charge on a certain list of securities stating that all were free from encumbrances. It subsequently transpired that he had already given charges on some of these securities to the International Bank.

He gave the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank a charge on his carpet factory, concealing from them that the Bank of China had already a charge and concealing from the Bank of China that he was giving the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank a charge on their security. After these varied and questionable proceedings he assigned everything he possessed to the newly-formed company. What did he think, if he thought at all, was going to happen to the creditors of his original business if the new loans from the Hongkong Bank did not build up his business again? He had transferred everything he possessed to the Company and there was nothing remaining to pay these creditors. The Company was to all intents and purposes himself, with Mr. Barrett a nominal holder of some shares. He thus took away from all his creditors whom he had been dealing with up to that period as an individual trader all possibility of getting paid their money unless the Company (which only possessed as its assets the good will and the wreck of a personal business already ascertained to be insolvent) became a success, and he was by the returns of the Company enabled to satisfy those former clients.

There could be no doubt that this transaction was a juggle and a fraud on his creditors. The bankrupt must have known at the time he transferred his property to the Company that he was insolvent and His Lordship felt bound to say that it did appear to him that the Company was merely formed for the purpose of creating an entity to which he could transfer and safeguard from his creditors such possessions as still remained to him. It was said that it was merely formed to facilitate the obtaining of financial assistance from the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank for the purpose of re-establishing the business on a sound financial footing and that the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank "put pressure" on him to form the Company. But the only pressure that the bank put was to ask for some better security before they advanced more money and on the promise of the bankrupt to give them debentures on a company to be formed they did give him a further advance.

QUESTION OF FRAUD

With regard to the word "fraud" in these cases, there had been controversy. At one time, the courts recognised two forms of "fraud." Fraud, which rendered the individual liable to civil and criminal penalties, and fraud called "legal fraud" which was sufficient to void and invalidate deeds but carried no further penalties. For instance cases where reckless statements were made or obligations recklessly entered into without reasonable grounds for the individual's belief in his statements was reasonable reflexion on the obligation, but not necessarily with a wilful intention to deceive and cheat. Such statements as were often referred to as "the wish is father to the thought" that was what was called "legal fraud." But at a later period Lord Bramwell would not acknowledge these two forms of fraud. He said: "To make a man liable for fraud moral fraud must be proved." I do not understand "legal fraud." To my mind it has no more meaning than "legal heat," "legal cold," "legal light," or "legal shade." But later the two forms again grew up and were adhered to the present time. And it had been laid down that "It is fraud in law if a party does or says something which he knows to be false, although his motives for such representation and proceedings may have been good." Therefore it was not necessary for His Lordship in the present case to decide whether the bankrupt's motives "were good" in making this assignment or whether they were morally wrong and bad. In fact, there were several reasons why he should not do so on this application, unless it was absolutely necessary in giving his decision, and it was not. It was sufficient for him to find that this assignment was a fraud on his creditors in a technical sense and that his act tended to defeat and delay his creditors.

It might be that the bankrupt considered that by making this assignment to the Company and getting thereby financial assistance from the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank he could build up his business again and pay off his personal creditors, which he would be unable to do if he continued as he was. Or on the other hand he might have intended to defraud his personal creditors and so to speak "wipe them off the slate" and meanwhile build up for himself a comfortable income by means of the Company, having thrown off the incubus of his former creditors.

But as His Lordship had said, it was unnecessary; and therefore he gave no opinion on this point. Nevertheless, there could be no doubt the bankrupt at the time of making his assignment was insolvent and the assignment in itself was an act of bankruptcy and fraudulent in the sense that it did defeat and delay payment to the creditors of his private business. Therefore under the Bankruptcy Act of 1914 it was void and invalid against the Official Receiver.

His Lordship therefore declared that the assignment was fraudulent and an act of bankruptcy and void as against the Official Receiver and under section 37 the title of the Official Receiver related back to the date of the assignment, i.e. the act of bankruptcy, and over-rode the claims of the creditors of the Company.

An order was accordingly made to hand over to the Official Receiver the property set out in the deed of assignment.

British Steel Is Doubling Output

(Reuter's Service)

London, September 12.—The British production of pig-iron during August was 93,000 tons, as compared with 10,000 in July and 386,000 in March, before the coal stoppage. The production of steel ingots and castings in August was 432,000 tons, compared with 117,000 in July and 359,000 in March.

Forty-six blast furnaces were operating on August 31, as compared with 15 on July 31, and 109 before the coal stoppage.

According to Newcastle reports, the number of idle collieries in that district has increased, and the production has been generally curtailed, owing to the lack of foreign trade. Collieries are suspending work rather than incur heavier loss by selling at still lower prices.

Your Health Comes First

Good Health is your most valuable asset:—its preservation should, therefore, receive your most careful consideration. An important point which should always be borne in mind is the fact that a great many forms of ill-health can be traced, directly or indirectly, to disorders of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. It is wise, therefore, to keep these organs in healthy activity. When they show any signs of derangement let that reliable medicine, Beecham's Pills, be taken at once. Always deal with digestive ailments in time. They are far-reaching in their possibilities of mischief if neglected, as they too often are. And yet it is generally easy to keep fit and well and free from many debilitating ailments by the simple use of knows all that there is to be known about food values and stimulant values. There is the centre (probably the world centre) of cultured scientific study of how to keep life alive and how to keep life healthy.

An agent for Haig & Haig who trades extensively in the West End of London informs us that not many weeks pass without orders coming from Harley Street doctors for our whisky.

They know what they are doing. Life can be saved (and often is saved) by the timely use of fine stimulant.

When "control" is banished in the Home Market the price of Haig & Haig Whisky will be higher there than other Whiskies. In all uncontrolled markets the higher price is now being paid. That is one of the reasons why Haig & Haig is a scarce commodity in the Home Market.

PUBLIC NOTIFICATION
Chinese Government Railways
PEKING-HANKOW LINE
Short Term Bonds

In 1915, the Peking-Hankow Railway has floated a loan amounting to two million and five hundred thousand dollars ($2,500,000) which has been oversubscribed. Interests have been paid and bonds retired punctually.

With a view to develop the traffic along its line, to strengthen the old bridge, to erect new bridges, to increase the efficiency of its administration, the Peking-Hankow Railway floats, with the approval of the Ministry of Communications a new loan amounting to four million dollars ($4,000,000), bearing an interest higher than the previous loan.

Subscriptions will be taken place either at the Banks designated below, or at the Accounting Department or the Peking-Hankow Railway.

The regulations governing the issuance of the bonds are as follows:

Regulations governing the Issuance of Peking-Hankow Railway Short-Term Bonds.
(Improvement)

Art. 1. With a view to develop the traffic along its line, the Peking-Hankow Railway is authorised by the Ministry of Communications to float a short term loan, to be known as Peking-Hankow Railway Short Term Bonds.

Art. 2. The total amount of the bonds is fixed at four million dollars ($4,000,000) Peking currency.

Art. 3. The denominations of the bonds are of four kinds: namely, $10,000, $1,000, $100, and $50.

Art. 4. Interest for the bonds is 0.8% monthly.

Art. 5. Subscriptions will be taken place within one month and half, that is, from August 16th to September 30th, the tenth year of Chinese Republic.

Art. 6. The term of the bonds is four and half years. Interest for the first six months shall be paid in advance at the time of subscription. $500,000 bonds shall be retired in every six months by drawing, until the total issue shall be retired on March 31, the 15th year of Chinese Republic. The drawing shall be taken place on March 15 and September 15 of every year, supervised by representatives from the Ministry of Communications.

Art. 7. Subscriptions shall be closed at the end of September, the tenth year of Chinese Republic. Subscriptions paid before this date shall receive a monthly interest of 0.8%, to be counted by days, from date of subscription to the end of September which, together with the interest for the first six months (from November 1st, the tenth year of Chinese Republic, to March 31st the eleventh year) shall be deducted from the amount of subscription at the time when payment is made. Interest shall hereafter be paid semi-annually.

Art. 8. The bonds shall be sold at ninety two dollars and eighty cents ($92.80) per every hundred dollars ($100), but shall be retired at the par value.

Art. 9. Those bonds which have been drawn shall receive interests only up to the end of the term in which the drawing has taken place, whatever the date of payment will be.

Art. 10. Beginning from the time when subscription is closed, the Peking-Hankow Railway shall reserve every month $100,000 from its operating revenues to be deposited in the following banks which shall act as its subscription agents, the Bank of China, the Bank of Communications, the Continental Bank, the Kincheng Banking Corporation, the Sing Hua Savings Bank, the Salt Bank, etc., as gurantees for the payment of the bonds and interests.

Art. 11. The above-mentioned banks shall act as the agents of the Peking-Hankow Railway for the sale of the Bonds. But they shall from time to time advice with the Accounting Department of the Peking-Hankow Railway. Interests shall be paid and bonds retired through the same banks.

Art. 12. Detailed regulations governing the sale of the bonds shall be made separately.

Art. 13. The bonds shall not be registered in the name of the purchaser, but it may be so registered, if requested.

Art. 14. The bonds shall be good for guarantee money of the employees of the Chinese Government Railways.

Art. 15. The bonds shall be good for securities or guarantees of the contractors, merchants, and transportation companies who may have contracts with the Peking-Hankow Railway.

Art. 16. The matured bonds and interest coupons shall be good for cash payment to the Peking-Hankow Railway.

Art. 17. In case of loss or destruction by fire of the bonds the original owner or owners shall notify the police office at the place of his residence the number of the bonds and the conditions when they are lost or destroyed, and shall also notify the bank of issue. At the same time, the facts shall be published in at least two daily newspapers. After two months, the bank of issue shall certify the facts and request the Peking-Hankow Railway to issue new bonds to take the place of the lost or destroyed bonds. Matured bonds not redeemed within five years, and interest coupons not redeemed within two years, shall be considered as void.

Note—In case of dispute or disputes arising out of the interpretations of these regulations, the original Chinese version shall be considered as valid.

Conseil D'Administration Municipale De La Concession Francaise de Changhai

MUNICIPAL LOAN OF 1921

(20,000 debentures of Tls. 100 each),

Rate of interest 8% per annum

The "Conseil d'Administration Municipale de la Concession Francaise de Changhai" hereby invite subscriptions for 20,000 debentures of Tls. 100 each, according to the resolution passed at their General Meeting on May 30, 1921.

The conditions on which the Debenture Certificates will be issued are:—

1°—The Debenture Certificates are transferable, and the person whose name is entered in the Register of Debenture Certificate or Certificates, shall alone be recognised and treated by the Council as the lawful and rightful holder and owner of such Debenture Certificate or Certificates.

2°—The loan will be redeemable at par (Tls. 100) in not less than 10 years and not more than 30 years, from 1st July, 1931 and according to the figures determinated by the Council.

3°—The loan will bear interest at 8% per annum, payable on the 30th day of June and 31st of December in each year, when interest warrants will be issued to the registered owners.

4°—The property and income of the Municipality, deducting those which serve as security provided in the Municipal Loans of 1903, 1911, 1914 and 1916 are the security for the repayment of the money advanced and for the interest thereon in the present loan.

The Members of the French Municipal Council are not personally liable in any way for the payment of either principal or interests.

5°—Applications for debentures will be received at the Secretary's Office, Rue du Consulat.

A cheque representing the amount of debentures asked for must be deposited at the same time.

6°—Applications for Debentures under par will not be recognised by the Council.

7°—For further informations, apply to Mr. P. LEGENDRE, Secretary, French Municipal Council.

The Senawang Rubber Estates Company (1921), Limited

A resolution was adopted yesterday at the extraordinary general meeting of the Senawang Rubber Estates Co. (1921), Ltd., held at the offices of the general managers, Messrs. J. A. Wattie and Co., Ltd., which divided the capital of the company into two classes of shares, 100,000 to be classed as "preferential" and 300,000 to be considered as ordinary.

The resolution follows:

"That in exercise of the power conferred by Clause 5 of the Company's Memorandum of Association, the existing capital of the company be divided into two classes of shares, namely 100,000 preference shares of Tael 1.00 each and 300,000 ordinary shares of Tael 1.00 each, and that the provisions following in regard thereto have effect, that is to say:

(a) The 100,000 preference shares aforesaid shall be those shares which are numbered 300,000 to 400,000 inclusive, and such preference shares shall be from henceforth numbered 300,000 to 400,000 inclusive.

(b) The said preference shares shall carry a fixed cumulative preferential dividend at the rate of 12 percent per annum on the capital paid up thereon and such dividend shall run as from the first day of November, 1921, and shall be paid as nearly as may be half yearly on the thirty-first day of January and thirty-first day of July.

(c) Such preference shares shall only confer a right to vote at general meetings of the company upon any proposition for the sale of the company's undertaking or for altering the regulations of the company, so as directly to interfere with the rights and privileges of the holders, and shall only confer a right to notice of and to attend at general meetings of the company where some such proposition is to be submitted.

(d) Such preference shares in a winding-up shall rank for re-payment of capital in priority to all the other shares.

(e) The residue of the existing shares shall be numbered 1 to 300,000 inclusive, and shall be called ordinary shares, and, subject as aforesaid, such ordinary shares shall confer a right to the surplus profits of the company which it shall from time to time be determined to distribute by way of dividend, and in a winding-up shall rank for re-payment of capital after the payment off of the capital paid up on the preference shares aforesaid.

(f) These provisions, so far as necessary shall take effect by way of alteration of the articles of association of the company."

The resolution will be submitted for confirmation as a special resolution to a further extraordinary general meeting which will be held on Thursday, Sept. 29, 1921, at the same time and place.

Mr. E. T. Byrne, chairman of the board of directors, introduced the resolution. He was supported by directors A. K. Craddock and A. J. Welch, and Mr. C. J. L. Stewart, secretary. Shares numbering 76,209 were represented.

THE CHAIRMAN'S SPEECH

Mr. Byrne, in urging the resolution, said:

"Gentlemen: As notified to you by circular letter the response by shareholders to the invitation to subscribe for the new issue of 66,850 shares has been extremely meagre, the total subscriptions at the time when the letter was sent out being only Tls. 35,915, since when a further Tls. 30 have been received making in all Tls. 35,945.

"This amount is not sufficient to pay off our overdraft with the company's bankers which stands today at Tls. 58,283.35. The estate as you know is a very valuable one, and has fully recovered from the outbreak of mouldy rot. Tapping costs for the month of July with a small output of 12,700 lbs. was 8¾ cents only which will be further reduced. All rubber is at present being manufactured into crepe, most of which passes as Singapore standard. There are 44,456 trees being tapped and 30,677 trees being rested.

"I give you these few particulars to show you that the estate is in good working order, and that your directors in asking you to financially help the company believe that this new company will merit the confidence which was given to the old company in the past.

"The issue of ordinary shares not proving attractive your directors decided after consideration with the guarantors of the company's overdraft, to ask your permission to offer to present shareholders and the general public Tls. 100,000—12 percent cumulative preference shares, and I may now mention that the guarantors have promised to take up a fair portion of the issue, and it is hoped that the shareholders and public will participate in this attractive investment.

"I do not think there is anything much further I can say beyond assuring you that the estate is being worked at the minimum of expenditure, and that if you will back the efforts of your directors to keep this valuable property for you, by generously subscribing to the new issue, you will have no cause for regret.

"Shareholders who have already subscribed towards the ordinary shares will be given the option of taking either ordinary or preference shares for the amount of their subscriptions."

Exchange Fluctuations

Asia Banking Corporation

Shanghai, September 13, 1921

Both spot and forward bar silver were unchanged in London yesterday. The New York price of silver was up 1/4 cent. The London-New York cross rate was down 5/8 cent.

The official Sterling and Gold Dollar rates at the opening of the market were unchanged.

During the morning, the Sterling rate advanced one cent. The Gold Dollar rate advanced 1½ cent.

Business was done at 3/11 for September and 3/10-3 Farthings for October in Sterling; at 73 for September and 72½ for October in Gold Dollars.

The market was strong with speculators selling until late in the afternoon, when it eased off with good buyers.

The rise in exchange yesterday means that one Mexican dollar is worth 52.2 cents in United States Currency. One hundred United States dollars may be bought for Mex. $188 with a tael exchange rate of 73 and the Mexican dollar rate at 72.5. Fifty American dollars at these rates will purchase Taels 68.49 or Mex. $93.83.

Accomplished Facts In Far East

(N. Y. Herald, August 13)

IN Japan's informal acceptance of the invitation to the conference at Washington it was proposed by that powerful and enlightened Government that such questions should be eliminated from the discussion of armaments as referred to "accomplished facts" or matters of chief concern to the nations directly involved.

Japan's position in this respect has been generally understood to be inspired by a diplomatic reluctance to connect with the broad question of limitation of armaments matters like Yap and Shantung and military activities affecting Siberia. In other words, it is assumed that Tokio has desired to close the door of discussion upon questions that decidedly have not yet gone to the limbo.

Secretary Hughes, in his very ably shaped note of formal invitation to the other Powers, speaks particularly of the vital relation to the question of limited armaments of certain "Pacific and Far Eastern problems of unquestioned importance at this time."

Is it not possible that the sequel may show that the "accomplished facts" which the far seeing statesmanship of Tokio wants to keep out of the agenda, as sources of controversy not pertinent to the present discussion of armaments, go much further back than Yap or Shantung?

For example, there is Korea. In 1883 the United States Government ratified and proclaimed a treaty with what was then known as the Kingdom of Korea, or Chosen. That treaty is technically in force today. It stands in the official compilations as of equal force with the other treaties, conventions, acts, protocols and agreements constituting the code of our existing international obligations. And the first article of that treaty declared on the part of the United States a sort of protective relation to Korean independence and liberty in the following language:

"There shall be perpetual peace and friendship between the President of the United States and the King of Chosen and the citizens and subjects of their respective Governments.

"If other Powers deal unjustly or oppressively with either Government, the other will exert their good offices, on being informed of the case, to bring about an amicable arrangement, thus showing their friendly feelings."

Nearly forty years ago, therefore, the United States and the Kingdom of Chosen entered into this agreement for mutual assistance. Korea was to stand by the United States in case of injustice to or oppression of the United States by any other Power, and we undertook a similar relation to the Government and people of Chosen.

We are not inquiring now how fully the United States met its treaty obligations in the inconclusive correspondence between Washington and Tokio on the subject of Korea, after Japan had taken possession of that kingdom, overthrown its independence and assumed mastery over the people to whom we promised perpetual and supervisory friendship.

We are merely advancing the supposition that the case of Korea may be an example of the class of questions Japan desires to have regarded as accomplished facts and to bar from profitless resurrection at the Washington conference in November. It is to be hoped that Japan's attitude concerning Pacific and Far Eastern questions still vital to the broad question of armament limitation may be as reasonable and enlightened as we have the right to expect Japan's attitude to be in any matter affecting the enduring friendship among our peoples—to use Secretary Hughes's friendly words.

Nervous Patients In The Majority

("Outwitting Our Nerves." By Josephine A. Jackson and Helen M. Sailsbury. The Century Company)

This volume has the advantage of not being confined to a discussion of nerves. It deals with the nervous system only as part of a body in which every portion has some necessary connection with every other, and in which nervous ailments do not stand out as isolated phenomena. Starting with the premise that in order to understand diseases of the nerves one must be acquainted with the workings both of mind and of body, the authors consider comprehensively and with considerable discernment the underlying factors making for nervousness. Much of the Freudian philosophy is presented in outline; the subconscious mind and its influence upon the conscious self is discussed; the instincts, both self-preservative and race-preservative, are analysed.

"At least 75 percent of all the people who apply to physicians for help are nervous patients," we are informed in the opening chapter; and since, as the authors add, these "are as a rule among the highly organised conscientious folk who have most to contribute to the leadership of the world," it will be perceived that the correct understanding of nervous ailments is an attainment of no little importance. The key to such an understanding is here given simply and concisely. A nervous disorder, we are told, "is not a physical but a psychic disease. It is caused not by lack of energy but by misdirected energy"; among the most conspicuous reasons are lack of adaptation to one's environment, lack of harmony with one's self, or misdirected emotions occasioned by faulty ideas or ignorance.

Much nervousness, we are informed, represents the late payment of debts incurred in childhood; of natural impulses early arrested, of the fixation of childish habits, and of faulty ideas, such as those concerning birth, often deliberately fostered by parents, and tending to produce an abnormal psychic condition, the effects of which may persist throughout life. Moreover, nervousness is described as "an unsettled ethical struggle," as a contest between what is primitive in man and what is conventional or moral, when the conflict is so even that neither side has the advantage, and the nerves capitulate.

The best remedy for nervousness, in the belief of the authors, is in the direction of prevention rather than of cures. But for those already victims of the disorder the authors recommend first of all a thorough knowledge of themselves, to be followed by a redirection of energy, in such a manner that no vital forces will be pent up or suppressed, but that all will be led into useful channels.

World Cries Out For Genius To Match Its Mood In Song

BY MME. CLARA BUTT

A nation's feelings can be judged through its songs. There is no surer indication of the characteristics of any given period. Poets and musicians are sensitive creatures, and respond most readily to the prevailing emotions.

It is a poet's privilege to put into words the innermost thoughts of the people, the composer's privilege to set them to music, and ours to criticise them by our performance. I agree with Oscar Wilde that the performance is the "real criticism of a work."

People who give their criticisms on paper are not always critics. Performers and interpreters are the real critics and audiences form their opinion as to the merit of a work according to the interpretation given.

To be great a song must have a message that can be understood by the uneducated as well as the educated. Songs like "Abide with Me" and the "Land of Hope and Glory" have that feature in common—that simple message that goes to the heart.

The war produced few great works, but Sir Edward Elgar's "Spirit of England" and Edward German's setting of "Have You News of My Boy Jack?" stand out. After singing the latter I have been comforted by the words "Then hold your head up all the more, because he was the son you bore."

It is only now, at the distance of two or three years, that one begins to realise the war in its true proportions. Up to the present people have been striving to forget, to distract their minds with frivolities, because they were afraid to think, lest the tragedy should overwhelm them.

But the public is already dissatisfied with the frivolous fare that is placed before it. In the theater the plays that are succeeding are those that have in the more than froth.

It is the same with music. During the war many good concerts were given daily to the troops, and am sure the seed sown is at last bearing fruit. There is a distinct desire for better things; more appreciation is shown for good music. There always will be people who like a tinkling tune, of course, but I am speaking now of the people as a whole.

I have faith in the law of supply and demand. I believe that the people of the world are crying out for a genius to tell of the sorrows and joys of our times—and I am convinced that before long such a genius will arise.

Science Queries And Replies

BY EDGAR LUCIEN LARKIN
(Director Of Lowe Observatory)

"When is the best time to see the comet?"—SCOTUS.

The Pons-Winnicke comet cannot be seen without a telescope. I regret receiving this question. I have for years carefully kept comet accounts out of this column for fear of floods of letters from "cranks"; "high salaried professional alarmists;" "end of the world fanatics;" "Where will the comet strike?" "Are we to have another war?" "Will the streamer hit the earth?" "Will the gas poison the air?" "What calamity does the comet portend?" "Will a ship sink?" "Will there be earthquakes?" "Is a tidal wave coming?" "Will there be a meteoric shower?" "Is the Book of Daniel about to be fulfilled?" "Is the comet a fulfillment of the Book of Revelation?" "Will the stars fall as mentioned in Rev. vi., 13?" "Are comets the vials of wrath to be poured out on earth—Rev. xvi., 1?"

These and hundreds more choked my mail when Halley's comet was athwart the sky. Here in the mountains its nucleus at rising was behind a peak, but the colossal streamer passed the zenith. Seven letters came from those who went insane. Humanity has not produced more despicable humans—save the satanic secret diplomats who planned the war—than the fakers who delight in alarming the ignorant.

No comet that has passed perihelion since real astronomy, that based on rigid law, has been studied could destroy the earth. The nuclei of comets are composed of loose meteors like bees in a swarm; the same as fall incessantly singly on the earth. Many may be seen in the Central Park Museum.

I remained up all night in this mountain observatory to watch things when the earth dashed through a rarified outlying portion of the streamer of Halley's comet in 1911. Absolutely nothing unusual could be noticed. I went outside and faced the direction in which the earth was moving forty-two miles per second. Nothing happened. The gas of the streamer was rarer than the vacuum in an incandescent electric lamp bulb.

Comets do not portend calamity—they move on orbits around the sun on ellipses, parabolas and hyperfolas. On the latter two they pass perihelion at terrific velocity and dash into space deeps never to return. This is because these two comets are open curves. But they would traverse their orbits, whether the earth exists or not, or whether inhabited or not. They have nothing to do with the human species.

Nor can comets cause earthquakes. There is no such thing as an extra tidal wave. Tides are caused by the force of attraction of the sun and moon, and since these masses are constant, gravitation is constant. An extra high wave in the sea is due to windstorms, or maybe to upheavals in the ocean floor. But the wave is not a tide wave.

None living knows what the prophecies in the Book of Daniel mean. Nor when nor how they would be fulfilled, if ever.

Since my twelfth year I have been asked thousands of times about the meaning of the book of Revelation. I replied always that I did not know.

If one star should fall "unto the earth," human race would all die in less than one minute, and the earth would be entirely submerged in the deep layered gas, the energy of heat would at once turn all oceans to steam and them to oxygen and nitrogen. And the mountains would indeed melt.

Every one of the 3,000,000,000 stars is a gigantic incandescent sun. The smallest sun would swallow up many thousands of worlds like the earth. Our sun is 1,310,000 times larger than the earth; and Betelguese is 64,000,000,000,000 times larger.

WHERE TENNIS CAME FROM

The most popular game of the day is tennis. Apart from Davis Cup contests, in the words of the old song "Everybody's doing it." Every back garden that has anything like sufficient space and grass is laid out as a court, where future Suzanne Lenglens and embryo Tildens wield the bat with a thousand strings.

Tennis, the forerunner of the lawn game of today, is a very old game. It was introduced into England about the Fourteenth Century. A line was chalked on a wall, and a stroke below this was considered a fault.

"Palm-tennis" originated in France. The ball was driven by the palm of the hand; at first the hand was bare, but later the players used a glove, and still later some form of racquet was used.

In the time of Edward IV, Henry VII and Henry VIII, a crude form of tennis was played in England, and it is on record that Queen Elizabeth was pleased at a game played by ten of the Earl of Hertford's servants.

Another story tells how a noble earl, becoming heated by the exertions of the game, wiped his face with the Queen's handkerchief, and was rewarded with a crack on the head with her Majesty's racquet.

SHADOWED BY A DETECTIVE

A statement recently appeared in the American papers to the effect that President Harding contemplates abolishing the office of barber to the White House and paying for his own shaves, thereby saving the country £390 a year.

That reminds one of the story of how one day President Roosevelt was greatly annoyed by the persistent attentions of a detective who had been told off to look after his safety.

"How much do you get for this job?" asked the President.

"Forty dollars a week."

"And the country will be benefited by that amount if you would keep out of the way," growled Roosevelt.

NOT WHAT HE MEANT

It was at a practice of the village choir.

The conductor suddenly stopped the singers in the middle of a selection.

"Can't you see that pause?" he demanded angrily.

There was no reply.

"What is pause?" he thundered.

"Cats' feet," came the reply in a meek voice from the basso quarter.

HEARD AT A CONCERT

Stretchanoctave, the famous pianist, called upon his friend Flat the other day.

"Did you go to the Symphony Concert yesterday?" Flat asked the great musician.

"Yes," replied S—, but in no too enraptured a voice.

"Did you enjoy it?" queried Flat.

"No," was the short, sharp response.

"Why, I heard that it was very good," expostulated Flat.

"It may have been for all I know," answered the great pianist, with tears in his eyes.

"What was the matter?" asked his friend, all concern at once.

"Two women behind me kept up a constant stream of chatter throughout the whole concert," explained S——.

"What did they talk about? enquired Flat."

"They were telling each other how they loved music."

Rage and mortification overcame Stretchanoctave, and he rushed from the room, banging the street door as he passed out into the cool night air.

hereafter, with the souls of Chinese, white and winged, like ourselves, up above. A plan to keep us from mingling here below with Chinese diseases, which include bubonic plague, pleases us almost as much as a new scheme for Chinese missions.

See how a man of modern millions uses money's power. Once he spent it chiefly to purchase immunity for his own soul. Now he fights disease with hospitals and ignoranec with universities.

But don't forget that Mr. Rockefeller's great contribution to the world is his demonstration of the fact that competition is unnecessary and wasteful. In days to come, when the people own and operate all their own natural monopolies, historians will say: "John D. Rockefeller taught them that the thing could be done."

Today By Arthur Brisbane

Thomas Kane, Pennsylvania Railroad special officer, has allowed blood to be taken from his own supply forty-two times to save the lives of others, most frequently of women. Whenever possible he responds to requests; doctors know they can get blood from him free if he has had time to recover from the most recent transfusion. He has allowed blood to be taken from him three times in ten days to oblige an extreme case.

That reminds you that the blood is indeed life; that the human body is a machine of wonderful vitality if you treat it fairly; also that there is heroism in shedding your blood to save life, as well as in spilling it in the effort to take life.

The case of Henry P. Davison, man of extreme energy and great ability, should warn all men that insomnia is nature's most urgent danger signal. Never delay or put off when sleep begins to fail.

Consult a real doctor, not an imitation one. There are certain aids to sleep—not coal tar preparations and in no way habit forming drugs—that will often break up insomnia in the beginning. And insomnia must be broken up or there is danger of shortening life. A great German doctor said years ago to Nathan Straus, his patient, "If I had known earlier what I know now my life would be prolonged twenty years beyond my probable allowance. It is too late for me now." That doctor died soon after of insomnia's effects.

If insomnia is just beginning, try this. Go to bed early, OUT OF DOORS, warmly covered, wearing a nightcap. Novelty will help you to sleep. Have another bed ready in an enclosed room with a bowl of milk, some crackers and a "heavy" book beside the bed. When you wake from your first outdoor sleep, unless you actually feel sleepy, don't try to continue the outdoor sleeping.

Go indoors, drink your milk and eat your crackers, slowly, reading a little as you eat. Read for a few minutes afterward. Then go to bed indoors. Don't try to sleep, just lie, digesting. Unless your condition is very bad you will sleep again, soundly. The food, taking the blood from the brain to the stomach, will relieve nervous tension that causes insomnia. Try it, but get the advice of a real doctor, also.

John D. Rockefeller Jr., has started for China with his wife and daughter. He will dedicate in Peking a medical establishment, paid for by his father, to fight disease and ignorance of health precautions.

Rich men interesting themselves in China's welfare have usually worried about Chinese souls, not bodies, spending money to wean Chinese from Buddha, Shintoism, Confucianism, etc., Mr. Rockefeller, very religious, has presumably done his share to help the Chinese get into our heaven. On this trip he is trying to clean up China in a sanitary way and keep Chinese diseases, plagues, etc., from getting into our country and our systems. For that, thanks.

We'll be delighted to mingle,

TEXACO

TEXACO ENGINE AND MACHINE LUBRICANTS

Increase Power, Reduce Upkeep.

Texaco Engine and Machine Lubricants are a group of specialised oils designed to cover all requirements for this particular phase of lubrication work. Each one is of the high Standard of Excellence associated with Texaco Petroleum Products. Each will efficiently perform the particular service for which intended.

We will be glad to assist you in the selection of oils from this group which will exactly satisfy your particular demands. Describe to us the type of machine you wish to lubricate and the conditions under which it is operating. Or, if you prefer, ask for the free service and advice of one of our Lubrication Engineers.

Texaco Engine and Machine Lubricants are good oils, but they must be used correctly in order to obtain best results. That is the reason for Texaco Service and its facilities for information and instruction which we offer to you. Both of us profit by its use; you get the right oil for your purpose, we are assured that our product is used under proper conditions.

Japan To Send Big Mission To Europe

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, September 10.—The plans that have long been discussed by influential business men for the dispatch of Japan's first mission of active business men to America and Great Britain have been definitely formulated and a party of fifteen persons, including Mr. Takuma Dan, Mr. Ishii of the First Bank, and Mr. Yoneyama of the Mitsui Bank, and representatives of the leading Chambers of Commerce, is starting early in October for a six months' tour of Europe, via America.

The purpose of the mission is to investigate financial and economic conditions, especially the manufacture of steel and sugar, and the silk spinning industry and to develop friendships with a view to the harmonious development of the Orient.

Besides Baron Shibusawa, a party of five persons is proceeding to America shortly to return the visit to Japan of the Vanderlip mission.

TWO GIVEN MEDALS

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, September 8. — The Cabinet decided today to award $20,000 each to Kiangsu and Shensi in aid of famine and flood sufferers.

Peking, September 8.—President Hsu, acting on the suggestion of Mr. Chang Chih-tan, Director of Famine Relief, has conferred tablets for charity work upon Mr. Liu Cheng-siang and Admiral Tsai Ting-kan, in recognition of their famine relief labors during the recent famine.
